TVI Corporation Receives Orders for Decontamination Systems Totaling More Than $500,000 from U.S. Military

TVI's Decon Systems Designed to Protect Military First Responders Exposed to Hazardous Substances

GLENN DALE, MD – September 15, 2008 – TVI Corporation (NASDAQ: TVIN), an international supplier of first receiver and first responder products and provider of event shelter and equipment rentals, today announced that it has been awarded orders for 25 decontamination systems valued at more than $500,000 from the US Department of Defense. The equipment will be used by first responders at military bases to decontaminate military and civilian personnel exposed to hazardous substances.

“We are proud to supply the Department of Defense with decontamination systems that will safeguard our men and women in uniform,” said Lt. General Harley A. Hughes, USAF (Ret.), President and CEO of TVI. “These systems protect individuals who may have been exposed to dangerous substances, pathogens and disease. The superior design of our decontamination systems meets the military’s need for rapidly-deployable shelters that enable speedy responses to hazardous substance exposure. These orders also demonstrate the military’s continued confidence in our technology and manufacturing excellence.”
